Class Description:

Our group guitar classes are very small, only up to 3 students in each class, and they are designed for achieving fast results through high quality, individualized instruction.

The small class size allows us to teach students of different levels and ages in the same class. Students are engaged with their instrument during the whole class, whether learning with the instructor, or practicing by themselves while the instructor is working with other students in the class. When practicing by themselves, students learn how to practice at home independently.

Variety of ages and levels in each class allows for fun and challenging learning environment.
